

<http://www.chinagelling.com>

Tissue Culture Medium

Gellan gums are produced by microbial fermentation. They exist in both high and low acryl forms. The Gellan gum used in tissue culture is low acryl form, giving a firm, clear gel ideal for tissue culture. The recommended concentration of Gellan gum is 2-3 grams per liter of medium.

The low acryl Gellan gum structure BACK

